

Security Policy

Security is one of The Calgary Airport Authority's key priorities. The Authority ensures that all decisions about the airport take into account the potential impact on security. It is the responsibility of the whole airport community to adhere to this policy.

YYC is committed to being a leader in both physical and electronic security and to continually improve security through the following objectives:

- Enhancing cooperation and collaboration with our security partners;
- Promoting a culture of security vigilance and awareness;
- Use risk management principals to guide an appropriate response to security threats;
- Implementing effective processes and procedures that meet national and international standards and complying with all applicable regulatory requirements;
- All persons employed at YYC or requiring access to the aerodrome receive the appropriate security awareness and training;
- Correct and adequate equipment and facilities are in place to maintain security;
- Processes are established to eliminate or minimize security risk to people, aircraft or property;
- Reviewing all security incidents and breaches including implementation of corrective actions and lessons learned; and
- Communicating and informing the wider airport community regarding security issues.
- Achieving these objectives requires everyone at the airport fully understand their security responsibilities and their commitment to fostering a proactive security culture
